Ineligible Companies*

Companies that fall under the ACCME definition of 'ineligible' may become sponsors, however, ACHA is restricted from providing these companies with branded/promotional opportunities in exchange for sponsorship funds. Therefore, some items from the sponsor package list may not be able to be offered or may be restricted.

An ACCME-defined "ineligible company" is a company who produces, markets, re-sells, or distributes health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. This includes companies with products/services related to pharmaceuticals, medical supplies, diagnostic/testing equipment and supplies, contraceptive devices, etc. If you are unsure if this definition applies to your company, please contact exhibits@acha.org.

Ineligible companies that wish to become sponsors:

1. are required to sign a separate Commercial Support Agreement provided by ACHA
2. will have their sponsorship acknowledged in a generic font; ACHA is restricted from using your logo
3. will not be offered the benefits above noted in the packages list that have a red asterisk, which include complimentary ads, use of logo, or acceptance of branded materials for distribution by ACHA.
4. Attendee lists will exclude those attendees who opt-out of their name being furnished to 'ineligible' companies.

Note: These restrictions do not affect an "ineligible" company's ability to display and distribute branded material at their exhibit booth or to purchase an a la carte advertisement.
